Welcome back! It’s that time of year again where we take a moment to reflect on the past year as we gear up for the next. In 2017, we had a lot of amazing things happen for our department, from our Case Management program having a good year with increased enrollment and success stories to our youth program having a student place in the top three at a state competition! Not to say that there weren’t challenges—because everyone faced challenges of some sort in 2017—but we made it through!

I am excited for what’s in store for us in 2018, not just for GLEAMNS HRC, but for Community Action as a whole, as we are dedicated to helping people and making ourselves as a network more accountable. With this new year, there may be new challenges to face, but hopefully, everything will work out just fine, and we will make it to another year. Here’s to a safe, healthy, and prosperous 2018!

GLEAMNS Wins Back-to-Back as “Biggest Loser”!

For the second year in a row, GLEAMNS HRC took part in the state-wide health initiative sponsored by the South Carolina Association of Community Action Partnerships (SCACAP). Earlier this year, agencies participated in the “Spring” cycle of the Biggest Loser competition, which only lasted three months. The weight loss team for GLEAMNS HRC, called the “GLEAMNS Go-Getters” (or G3), participated but did not win.

Even so, G3 was ready for the “Fall” cycle, where agencies competed once again in monthly weigh-ins, which took place from May 2017 to October 2017. The winner—or the agency’s team that lost the most pounds—was announced on November 8, 2017 at the annual Statewide Mid-Fall Conference. For the second time in a row, GLEAMNS won first place as the Biggest Loser for the Fall cycle! The G3 team received a plaque and a check for $1500!

WAY TO GO, G3!

Meet our "GLEAMNS Go-Getters" (or G3) from CSBG!

“GLEANNS Go-Getters” continued

Libra Wilmore

- G3 Nickname: “Living Lean Libra”
- Position: CSBG LIHEAP Case Manager for Newberry County
- This was Libra’s third time with G3! She first joined G3 for the Fall 2016 cycle, which was the first G3 team during the start of the Health & Wellness Campaign. She was also part of the Spring 2017 cycle.

Vergia Mgbo

- G3 Nickname: “Valuing-My-Health Vergia”
- Position: Intake Specialist/Office Assistant for Laurens County
- This was Vergia’s first time with G3! Why she joined: “After having a stroke, I decided that I needed to make better health choices. Besides, at the time of my stroke, I had to be air-lifted to the hospital, and the trip cost me almost $34,000! So my personal future goal is to avoid the ‘most expensive helicopter ride in my life’ for the rest of my life!”

- Position: CSBG LIHEAP Case Manager for Abbeville County

- Her favorite equipment to use at the gym: Treadmill
- What changed because of your G3 experience? “G3 has really motivated me to be consistent in my journey to better overall health. It has truly been a blessing. The first time I joined, I slacked off after the agency’s win. Now I know my journey to better health is worth more than a win. Winning is temporary, but the effects of consistently improving my health is a daily blessing.”

Youth Leadership in Action

The GLEAMNS CSBG Youth Leadership Program (YLP) is a youth development program aimed at encouraging life and leadership skills in our “leaders of tomorrow.” Whether it’s during the school year or the summer, our YLP students are always engaging in educational opportunities!

Youth Leadership Spends the Week at Hickory Knob State Park

During the summer, the Youth Leadership Program attended the 2017 11th Annual Statewide Youth Leadership Institute. The South Carolina Association of Community Action Partnerships (SCACAP) held the week-long event at Hickory Knob State Park in McCormick, SC. YLP students from Community Action Agencies across the state participated in the Institute. The event was held July 18-21, 2017, and various workshops took place for the development of the students’ teambuilding and leadership skills. Four YLP students and the YLP instructor were able to represent GLEAMNS for the entire week of the Institute.

As a result, she is now working as an RN at Self-Regional Healthcare!

What did GLEAMNS help with? The cost of NCLEX-RN review course, including the student workbook.

Less than six months later, not only is she working, but she also achieved two of her personal goals—becoming certified and working as a C.N.A.!

During the YLP Conference, students participated in various activities that promoted leadership, career readiness, and character development. Students learned about important elements of leadership, such as taking a stand, staying focused, and having a healthy support system. Ten YLP students and three staff members were able to represent GLEAMNS for the event. Overall, it was a fun and insightful experience!
Youth Leadership Program Learns Sign Language

On September 28, 2017, YLP students attended an American Sign Language (ASL) workshop. The workshop presenter was Kathy Buckson-Fullenwider, who actually works as a GLEAMNS case manager in CSBG’s Spartanburg office! Mrs. Buckson-Fullenwider is a certified non-profit professional and taught the students (and staff members) the basics of American Sign Language. The presentation covered a wide range of ASL signs, including the alphabet, numbers, days of the week, and creating small sentences. Participants even learned how facial expressions and body postures are important elements of communication in ASL. Even so, the demand for skilled interpreters is high in the job marketplace, so this skill set could be very beneficial to students if they choose to pursue it. Five YLP students and four staff persons were present for the workshop.

YLP Observes “Diabetes Awareness Month”

Since November is “Diabetes Awareness Month,” the YLP students attended a Diabetes Awareness Workshop on November 13, 2017. The workshop presenters were affiliates of the WellCare Agency and discussed various topics with the students, including “Diabetes and Your Heart” and “What is Diabetes and How Can I Manage It.” Other subjects included the different types of diabetes and how diabetes can develop. The GLEAMNS Teen After-School Center Program joined the Youth Leadership Program for the workshop.

On December 16, 2017, the GLEAMNS Youth Leadership Program attended the 2017 Ninth Youth Leadership Oratorical Forum & Banquet in Columbia, SC. The event was hosted by the South Carolina Association of Community Action Partnerships (SCACAP) with participation from ten of the 14 CAAs in South Carolina. Over 100 attendees took part in the event, including the nine youth orators from the various agencies. The orators were judged on poise, content of speech, delivery and presentation as well as the overall effectiveness of their speeches.

Ms. India Rice, first-time GLEAMNS YLP student, represented the agency with her speech titled “IF.” Though her voice was under the weather, she battled it out to eloquently deliver her speech. Apparently, the judges took note because she came in third place, and for the first time, GLEAMNS had a speaker at the forum that placed in the top three! Overall, the oratorical forum was a great platform for the students, giving them the opportunity to express themselves and further improve their public-speaking skills. Seven students and two adults were able to represent GLEAMNS for the event.
YLP Wraps Up with the 2017 “End of the Year” Banquet

The GLEAMNS CSBG Youth Leadership Program wrapped up the year with its annual “End-of-the-Year” banquet on Tuesday, December 12, 2017. The event was held at the Inn on the Square in Greenwood, SC.

Our Youth Leadership Program students also...

- Attended an HIV/AIDS Awareness workshop on October 2, 2017. The workshop presenter was Jason Williams, the Executive Director of Upper Savannah Care Services. Mr. Williams conducted this workshop last year with the YLP participants, and due to the prevalence of the matter, he was asked to come back to touch basis with the students. The workshop covered the means of prevention and hygiene regarding HIV/AIDS and even free medical and medication services available in the community. Seven YLP students and two staff persons were present for the workshop.

- Attended a Self-Esteem workshop on November 20, 2017. The speaker Margaret Wilson talked with the students about the importance of having a high self-esteem as well as the potential results of having a low self-esteem. She even discussed the factors that influence self-esteem, such as physical health, emotional health, relationships, and even experiences with social media. Six YLP students and two staff persons were present for the workshop.
